involvement. impact. inspiration.

Every student on the Westminster campus has been involved, made an impact, and been inspired. Whether it was a community service group, social group, or academic group, everyone on campus has gotten involved in supporting others, maintaining friendships, and pursuing goals. This involvement has made an impact; it has made a difference. Social and service groups have impacted our studies, our friendships, and our dreams. We've all been touched by someone on campus, a teacher, a friend. People's actions and words, as simple as they sometimes can be, can have such an effect on someone else, it can change them forever. These changes are the inspiration that have helped us to reach our goals, to strive toward our dreams. . .

Fresh Start 2000

New Beginnings

On August 24, students and parents lined the parking lot, while over eighty upperclassmen volunteered to help get college off to a great start. The Fresh Start volunteers, distinguishable by their tie-dye t-shirts, systematically helped first-year students move into their dorms by unloading cars and carrying items to the designated rooms.

The next four days consisted of many events that helped make the transition to college and to the new surroundings easier. After President Williamson's speech and convocation, students said final farewells to friends and family, and were then broken up into their inquiry groups, with whom the would be spending the next four days.

Some highlights from orientation were the humorous skills that the Fresh Start staff did for the new students, as well as Titan Traverse. During Titan Traverse students tried to find their way through a mine field made of fun noodles and ropes, as well as play different tag based games and general name games.

Overall, it was a great success, and could not have happened without the wonderful volunteers who donated their own time. The weather cooperated and students were eased into college life with new friends and friendly surroundings.

Homecoming 2000

Bittersweet Victory

The chilly weather didn't keep Westminster from having one hot Homecoming the weekend of October 6-8. Friday began with an SGA sponsored pep rally in which the fall sports teams were introduced. The Titan Swim Teams won the award for most spirited organization. The Powder Puff Football tournament was also on Friday with the junior class bringing home a win this year. There was also a three-legged race and water balloon toss to start a fervor of excitement and competition on Homecoming. The winners were awarded gift certificates for Pizza Joe's. Coach Klamut and Dean Lechner were the proud selectees of the "Kiss a Pig" contest in which

SGA was able to raise money for the American Cancer Society.

Saturday began with the annual Homecoming Parade. Kappa Delta's "House of Horrors" and Sigma Kappa's "The Grinch Who Stole Christmas" were this year's proud winners for best float. And then the game - the #17 ranked Westminster Titans beat division rivals Bethany College 24-14, to give the alumni a bittersweet win after last year's defeat. During Half-Time, Jamie Freund (ZTA) and Dan Didesidario (Alpha Sigs) were named Homecoming Queen and King. All-in-all WC's 2000 Homecoming was a success. We sure know how to throw a party!

Fall Retreat:

“What are you Standing on?”

This year's Fall Retreat offered many opportunities for personal growth amidst the beautiful setting of the Monongahela National Forest in West Virginia. The Retreat was during the weekend of September 29, 2000. This year's theme was “What are you standing on?” The Fall Retreat is designed as an outreach program, open to all students. Each year, a retreat theme is chosen to connect people to their relationship with God. The spiritual Growth Team organizes the weekend. The Titan Traverse Team, the Christian Coalition Outreach Wilderness Staff, and student Titan Traverse facilitators lead rock climbing, rappelling, caving, and backpacking- a new addition to the retreat this year. Students can choose from any of the activities available. There are trained Wilderness Medical Responders on every site.

The opportunities for worship and for physical challenge make the Retreat an unforgettable experience. Those on the retreat learn to work together, help one another, and because they are in a wilderness setting, can focus more clearly on what is important in life, according to chapel assistant Keturah Laney, who states, “In terms of your Westminster lifetime, it's the chance of a lifetime.”

Study Abroad

Journeys around the world

If you've ever dreamed of experiencing a completely different culture, traveling to different places, or meeting new and interesting people, maybe the Westminster Study Abroad program is for you. Some majors, such as Foreign Languages, Art, and International Business require students to study abroad for at least one semester. However, the opportunity is available to all Westminster students who have a valid interest and a minimum of a 2.5 QPA. Most students who do study abroad recommend the experience to other students. Destinations are as varied as you can imagine with students studying anywhere from Japan, to Puerto Rico, or Spain.

To be considered for Study Abroad, students must first meet with Linda Volpe for an interview, and then, if approved, plans can be made for a semester at a university or college of the student's choice. The memories and knowledge that you can gain from living in another culture is immeasurable.

Pick- Up '01

The Greek Women of WC

Outside of Orr, it may have looked like an empty frozen land, but inside- the place was packed with members of each sorority cheering and dancing while they waiting for their new sisters to appear on stage

Backstage, first year girls eagerly awaited the public announcement as to where they would become sisters. "It finally became areality that I was joining a sorority as I stood backstage," said Melanie Piddington, a new Sig Kap sister. "I was so excited because I knew that I had made a decision to join a great group of girls." After the announcements had been made, each new sister joined their sorority for a day filled with fun and sisterhood bonding activities. Phi Mu and Sigma Kappa each took their new girls bowling while the Alpha Gams went roller-skating. The Zetas enjoyed a scavenger hunt and the Kappa Deltas had a movie m a r a t h o n .

Each sorority picked up about 15 new sisters who will add to the uniqueness and quality of each. It was great way to start a new semester and a new year of love and sisterhood among many of Westminster's female students. It was a day that will be remembered by many for a long time to come.

Mardi Gras

WC Style

Fireworks, food, friendship, and fun - four words in every college student's vocabulary, brought Westminster students and the community together. On February 16, Westminster College held its fourth annual Mardi Gras celebration in Orr lobby, consisting of a mini carnival with booths, mask decorating, food, games, fireworks, and a concert, the highlight of the yearly festival on campus.

The festivities started at 6 pm with the carnival. Students and the community had the opportunity to play games, eat, have their caricatures done, faces painted, and handwriting analyzed, and visit with friends. The Mardi Gras King and Queen distributed beads to the participants. The fireworks started at 7 pm and were a delight to all who saw them. At 8 pm, Grapevine hit the stage and played for the next hour. After that, the Clarks played. Unfortunately, the concert had to be briefly interrupted due to security reasons, but after the problem was solved, the concert continued.

Everyone who participated had a wonderful time. SAA and SGA did a wonderful job organizing the event for the campus and community, once again.

Pick-Up 2001

The Greek Men of WC

The weather was chilly, but the men were hot! This year's Fraternity pick-up was once again ellipsed by extravagant shows of brotherly love. All five WC frats participated in this year's pick up with the Alpha Sigs bringing home the award for best pick-up initiation. Senior Ken "Bubby" Weaver, and Jay Lundy "knighted" each of their pledges in a circle. Wearing the traditional black cloaks, the brothers of Alpha Sigs circled around the pledges on the outside.

Many people came out to see each frat pick up their pledges.

The Sig Eps did their traditional show, complete with a lamb and fireworks. Phi Tau brothers wore home-made tunics, made from "Beast" light boxes and other materials. Sigma Nu pledges were ceremoniously tossed in the frigid lake - having to break through ice first. Theta Chi brothers held up a banner of which their pledges had to run through and then tackle their new found brothers.

All in all, it was yet another wonderful Pick up day for the fraternities of Westminster.

Lil' Sibs Weekend

└─ The future of WC

On the weekend of April 6, 2001, younger siblings of Westminster students took the campus by storm. For a small fee, parents were invited to send their younger children off to college for the weekend. Student Affairs arranges the yearly event, complete with mass advertising. Little sibs camped out in their brothers' and sisters' rooms, and enjoyed a slew of activities planned for them. Sibs received tee shirts, watched movies and ate pizza. They were invited to use the swimming pool and take part in a variety of crafts such as wax hands. Organized primarily for younger children, older "lil' sibs" were welcome as well, with an evening dance for entertainment.

Other events included a Dance Theater performance, J.T.'s Café, and game shows. The annual event gives younger brothers and sisters an opportunity to see what college life is like and to bond with older siblings.

Relay for Life

Quest for the Cure

April 21, 2001 dawned cool and damp, but campus and community alike turned out for the fourth annual Relay for Life. Sponsored by Alpha Sigma Phi and co-chaired by Dan DeDesiderio and Ryan Vaccaro, the Relay for Life is a twelve-hour walk to raise money for the American Cancer Society, begun in honor of Dr. Peter W. Macky. Participants walked or jogged in teams, and for a $10 donation, received a tee shirt with team name and relay symbol.

Various groups provided refreshments, and fundraisers walk to the tunes of a DJ. Coinciding with Relay was Westminster's Earth Day Celebration, which focused on cleaning the roadways of trash in the New Wilmington area. Six hundred people from Alpha Sigma Phi, Westminster College, and the surrounding New Wilmington community raised $33,500 in the search for the cure.

The event's grand finale was a fireworks display by Zambelli Fireworks.

This year's Relay for Life held a goal of 75 teams and $30,000- a goal amazingly surpassed yet again by the generous community, honored cancer Survivors and WC faculty and staff.

Greek Week '01

What a Week!

Greek Week 2001 at Westminster College was yet another success. Held the week of April 22nd through April 28th, WC's Greek Community experienced a time of unity, friendship and fun.

Unfortunately, winners did have to emerge. Alpha Gams for instance won most of the sporting events held through out the week, which included football, softball, the infamous "Greek Olympics," Miss Titan, and of course, "Sing 'n' Swing." Alpha Sigs and the Eps tied for winner on the boys side. Phi Tau won the Greek Olympics.

The highlight every year of Greek Week is however, "Sing 'n' Swing." The theme this year was "Teen Idols." Theta Chi won it for the Fraternities for the second year in a row with their portrayal of David Cassidy. The Zetas claimed it for the sororities and their rendition of the king himself - "Elvis." Junior Jacquie Selznick said "Everyone did a great job and we [were] excited to win." The Greeks look forward to next year's Greek Week.

Volleyrock 2001

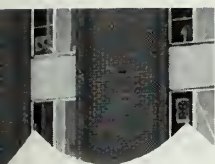

└─ A rockin' good time

Every spring, the Westminster crowd anticipates the annual SGA sponsored event we like to call VolleyRock - a smattering of music, food, fun, the WC community and of course - competition. This year, VolleyRock expanded to over 89 teams of 6 to 7 players per team. Camille Hawthorne explained that it was the largest VolleyRock yet. The weather was beautiful - fair skies and warm temperatures all day long. A DJ came out to play and The Lube provided "all you can eat wings" to the participants. The event lasted through dinner. The first, second, third and fourth place winners this year all received monetary prizes. Kylene Adams, Vice President of SGA and chair of this year's VolleyRock explained that she was "proud of the day" and "looks forward to next year's VolleyRock being even bigger."

"Anything Goes"

2000 Fall Musical

November 8th-12th Theatre Westminster, in its seventy-first season presented the musical "Anthing Goes." The story takes place when Billy Crocker (Craig Gottschalk) stows away aboard a ship with the object of his affections, Hope Harcourt (Amy Young), who happens to be already engaged to Lord Oakleigh (Richard Leigh), who her mother, Evangeline Harcourt (Janis Sylves) highly approves of. Also onboard the ship is Billy's boss, Elisha Whitney (Chris Nave), who thinks Billy is at home attending to business matters, and Reno Sweeney (Ashleigh Oram) who is the entertain ment on board the ship. Some memorable songs from the musical include "Anything Goes," "If you ever," and "Gabriel's Horn." The numbers included choreography that encompassed all kinds of dancing, but emphasized tap numbers. "Anything Goes" was another success on the Westminster stage and will always be remembered.

Rashomon

Spring theater production

Westminster received a refreshing treat this winter in the form of Rashomon, a play by Fay and Michael Kanin and based on the stories by Ryunosuke Akutagawa. Set in Kyoto, Japan, about 1000 years ago, it is a self-described "play about the truth." It asks the audience member to discern the truth involving the death of a samurai, and in so doing conveys the message that the truth must be actively sought.

Four testimonies regarding the death of a samurai referred to as the Husband (Drew Huston) are presented to the audience. The Bandit (Matthew Nichols) had violated the samurai's Wife (Mamiko Nakata), and the Husband was found dead afterwards. A Woodcutter (Justin Kurtz) who witnessed the events speculates on his death with the Priest (Brian Barrett) and the Wigmaker (Jen Smith). Philip Webster played the Deputy, Courtney Lovich played the Wife's mother, and Lorraine Washington portrayed a Medium through which the Husband's spirit communicates after his death. Sarah Kimbell presented the prologue, Paul Kimpel directed Rashomon and senior Rachel Helgeson had the position of assistant director.

CHEERLEADING

What a Year to Cheer!

This year's Titan Cheerleading squad has made it through another eventful season, leading the football team to a victory after victory. Headed by Senior Captain, Sheila Scrima, the squad exhibited their stuff every Saturday afternoon cheering and tumbling. Occasionally, in awe, as one of the tossed in the air in amazement. Then the sidelines in back crowd to wonder, The squad can also be basketball games and full of spirit, cheer, and the crowd would look on cheerleaders would be nothing short of squad would tumble the handsprings, leaving the "How do they do that?!" seen on the sidelines of other WC sports teams, pride.

Junior Cheerer describe the season in a quotation, "With the Titans moving divisions this year it's been great to be able to cheer our sports teams on to victory both at home and away! This year we've all become a lot closer to one another and together we built a cheerleading squad full of spirit and skill. We'll miss our senior Captain Sheila next year, but look forward to continually supporting the teams!"

Hitting the courts in 2000

The Lady Titans' tennis team went to the courts this year with a new attitude and in a new division of play. Both proved to be helpful in the 2000 fall season. The team was coached for the eleventh year by S. Kipley Hass, with assistance by Gerda Bretton, and was led by a single senior, Ellen Johnston. The Lady Titans' competing team consisted of two juniors, three sophomores, and one freshman, with an overall roster consisting of fifteen women.

Although the season was plagued with several injuries and line-up changes, the team had an overall record of 5 and 4-1 in the NCAA Division III Presidents' Athletic Conference. With the change in divisions, the local schools became evident. They now face teams such as Thiel, Grove City, Waynesburg, Washington and Jefferson, and Bethany. The Lady Titans' also faced Case Western Reserve University, Penn State Behrend, Slippery Rock, Mercyhurst, and Hiram.

Looking back on the season, Ellen Johnston commented on the hard work, "We came back from being in a competitive conference to being in another one and coming out on top this time," she said. "The team looked great and they can only improve and eventually beat Grove City."

WOMEN'S VOLLEYBALL

Clear the Court- The Lady Titans are Back!

The Lady Titan Varsity Volleyball team began the 2000 season strong and determined. At their second match of the season the Lady Titans were down two games versus Allegheny, but came back to win the next three games and the match. The only losses faced this season were suffered from top-ranked NCAA Division III schools. With nine returning letterwinners, including seniors Andrea Cronie, Brooke Engles, and Sarah Verhoff, the squad executed a major turnaround despite several early injuries and position changes. The team won over Grove homecoming in a October 21, the University of Chicago victorious. They season on November at 27-7 overall with a streak. The final long-time rival team to seek a bid for the ECAC Division II playoffs. The Ladies ended undefeated in the PAC conference with a record of 10-0. Head Coach Tammy Swearingen said, "Remaining undefeated in the conference is very important to us." The Ladies successfully executed this goal with one of the best seasons in years.

Westminster's Golf team had a wonderful season. Led by senior, Ryan Grissett and Mike Burnett, the men's team competed in a number of events. The team this year finished first in the Bethany April this year with a score of 380. Mike Burnett led the team with his highlights include a 2nd College Invitational held in Greensburg September, and the Titan Invitational held last 2nd Place finish at the Titan March. Sophomore Jim in this event. Dave Blazek, Mike Burnett, and Justin Young also aided in the 2nd place finish with low scores. The Titan Gold Team hopes to continue wracking in the low scores next season. They are only losing two seniors, and hope to swing with strength next year.

Westminster's riding team, led by Captain Kristen Greenwood and Co-captain Gwen Safran, grew in size from last year's team with the addition of many first-year students. Coached by Mary Roach-McKinley, the Westminster Equestrian team competes in the Show Association zone three, against many area schools. Junior Holly Daugherty says we added to the team show performances." She talents added a field of

The riders at various colleges; each semester. "At Westminster hosts one times," said Safran, "there could be up to sixteen schools competing in a meet." Each rider receives points for placing in competition. According to Safran, Penn State usually ranks high, if just because of the sheer size of the school. Although Westminster is small and the team is not highly competitive, Safran said the team performed very well this year.

at Westminster College

A message from the President...

R. Thomas Williamson

To the Class of 2001:

In 1997, we arrived on campus together with high hopes that Westminster would be the right place for us. We had a pretty good idea that it would be. We had conducted our research with due diligence and we brought with us a willingness to work hard; but, ultimately, we relied on our faith that things would work out well.

Things have, indeed, worked out well. We are indebted to faculty, staff, and students who have seen us through the tough times and encouraged us to reach higher.

As one who has had the opportunity to watch you grow and as one who has been tutored by you in learning how to be a college president, I thank you for your friendship and support. In the years ahead, you will be called upon to make big decisions for yourself and others. Don't forget that by applying due diligence, hard work and faith, your life's decisions will work out as well as your decision to attend Westminster.

Four years have flown by. I hope you have enjoyed them as much as I have.

May God bless you, each one.

Cordially,
R. Thomas Williamson

Tim - From Dr. Suess to Matt Christopher to Fox, Crossan, and Bultmann there has been quite a change. We sure had fun watching you going from one adventure to another. We are proud of you and what you have accomplished. May God continue to bless you on your journey; we look forward to seeing all the places you will go.
Love - Mom, Dad, & Kathy

Kelly, Dance as if no one were watching, Sing as if no one were listening, And live everyday as if it were your last.
Love,
Dad, Mom, & Jonathan
